

Richard Griffith
March 1852

Primary Valuation of Tenements.

ACT 9 AND 10 VICT., CAP. 110.

COUNTY OF CORK.

BARONY OF DUHALLOW.

(PART I.)

UNION OF KANTURK.

GRIFFITH'S VALUATION

As a result of the Poor Law enactment, the Government instituted a commission to survey the whole country for the purpose, among other considerations, of striking a property rate-tax to support the Workhouse system. Sir Richard Griffith was appointed to supervise this huge undertaking. The valuation named every householder in Ireland, identified in specific terms each holding and, based on prices of a certain range of commodities, placed a value on each holding. It also named the landowner or immediate lessor of each and every holding. Finally, each holding is given a map-identification number, particularly useful in the case of urban places. Griffith's Valuation has also been called Ireland's Doomsday Book.

The valuation for the Barony of Duhallow, Union of Kanturk, was published in March 1852, but relates to the period prior to May 1850. Rev. Michael O'Hea, C.C., named in Egmont Place, was transferred as Parish Priest, Rosscarbery, on the death of Rev. Jeremiah Moloney in April 1850. (Very Rev. O'Hea, D.D., was consecrated Bishop of Ross, Feb. 7th 1858) In the following pages are listed extracts from the valuation for (a) Kanturk town, (b) Kanturk Parish, (c) Kanturk Electoral Area and (d) Kanturk Postal District. It is clear from the Field Books which accompany the survey that the valuation was subsequently revised, probably in 1864 when a new valuation map was published.
